Queen of country music Tanya Tucker will be featured on CMT Cribs, debuting this Friday, February 5th at 10:00pm. Tucker personally takes viewers through her 5 bedroom Franklin, TN home on the outskirts of Nashville, built to fit in 2004 specifically to reflect the area's historic district with 1800's-era architecture, salvaged antique doors and stained glass windows. She bought the house in 2008 after selling her rural mansion and farm in 2007 for over $11 million.

Tucker's recent album, My Turn (Saguaro Road Records), was released to critical acclaim and bolstered with a slew of appearances on television such as the Larry King Live show, GAC, CMT and on NPR's Weekend Edition. My Turn found Tucker taking on classic country songs originally recorded by the greatest male country legends of all time and turning the tables, giving classics such as "You Don't Know Me" and "Oh, Lonesome Me" a powerful reconstruction from a woman's point of view. The Boston Globe declared that "Lovers of retro country will rejoice over this" and the Philadelphia Inquirer agreed, saying "It's hard to imagine a more well-executed tribute."
